BUTTER AND DYNAMITE.

"The Customs authorities at Stamboul have discovered a quantity of dynamite and bombs at the bottom of a tub of butter."

The min who stowed that staff away,
alert to smuggler's bid,
He put in a touch of sardonic truth, as well as the goods he hid;
For to flad titem together's as common in life as the commonest words we utter—
A sorrow beneath an oily wrap is dynamite in the butter.

To define the staff and the chinking of the soles wedge and the chinking to the soles medge and the chinking to the soles medge and the chinking to leap his bounds,
And sleat the breadth of his neighbor's lot for swelling the palace grounds;
But a Prophet eam down with dynamite,
the dynamite went a-booming off, in a word from a higher Throne:
"Even where Naboth's blood was split,
the dynamite went a-booming off, in

SAUL REJECTED

I Samuel xv. 10-31.

Saul Disuppoints the Lord.

Saul Disappoints the Lord.

This a freatful thing when God has to repent, or putting a min in a high position, and this losson is accounted by the position of the losson is accounted by the loss of the loss of Saul Cannot Deceive God's Prophet.

Baul Cannot Deceive God's Prophet.
But Somuel did something more than pray. He got up early the next morning to most tho wrong-doer. Saul met him with a foir foee and a smooth tong-to-telling him the the Lord, which was bat ho should utterly destroy oil that he took in battle. But God had mode samuel wise, and he perceived that Saul was not speaking the truth. He asked Saul to account for all the oxen ond sheep that he head in the earny. Nothing will or one take the place of obedience to God's commands.

Saul's Cowardice.

Shul's Cowardice.

Though Saul was a king and very brave in battle, he was a moral coward, and tried to shield itimself behind the people. Ho only made matters worse by not, conting at once that he had done wrong. Confession hever gots easier by being delayed. Always bear in mind that lift we confess at the beginning we do not run the risk of getting further into sin by trying to hide the wrong.

Samuel's Reproof.

Samuel's Reproof.

Patiently, but sadly, Samuel reminds the king of how when he was humble and good God chose him for his present high postition; reminds him of the commission with which God entrusted him and the atrict injunctions laid upon him in connection with the destroying of the Amalekties. He asked Saul why they had not been carried out.

Saul Still Bluful.

Saul Situ Sitrul.

Then Saul tried to make more excuses belind which to hide his fault. He protended that it did not matter saving the Amalekites' kine, and again metioned the people's headstrong behaviour, which, however true it might be, was no excuse for the king, whose duty it was to restrain them, and whose duty it was to restrain them, and whose duty it was to restrain them, and whose duty it was to secure to the spoil. Saul said that the wrongstuly-taken sturf was saved to sacridee to the Lord.

Saul's Punishment Foretold.

Same a Fansament Forceton.

Same a facety told Sam that the Lord could not accept no merifice the fruits of disobachence. Right can never ceve up a wrong action. Then he told Saut that because of his rebellion and disobscittence the Lord had rejected him from boing king. What a terrible price to pay for his sin.

Saul Ropents too Late.

Saul Ropente too Late.

When Saul heard lite dreadful consequences of his sin he repented quickly, confessing his gilt, imploring pardon, and that Samuel would go with him to worship before the Lord. But his repentance of losing his crown, and came too cut reactor the rown, and came too cut reactor the far will was unchangeable, and that he must give up his kingdom to a better and worther ruler, showing that as Samuel's mantle was rent when Saul latd hold on him to detain him so was the kingdom farmed for the farmed as log to up to worship with Saul, and thus seek to help the sinner, he could not remove the consequences of his sin. Wrong-doing must be punished if not repented of while dod holds out the hand of mercey.

QUESTIONS.

What sad news did God tell Samuel the night? . What did Samuel do? . What was Sam's sh ? How did the king try to hide his ong? ong ?
Why was he inexcusable even though people had sinned?
What was Saul's punishment?

The Selitude and Silen

OUR glory is your solitude;

By few of enrth you're underslood.
Ten million, million comredes denr
You hove, and yet alone uppear,
Thus can my soul, like one small star,
Alone, not lonely, shine afar.

When upward some bright comet sweeps From dorkness' unexplored deeps, Crosses your course, ond hastens by; You bow a moment as you fly! Thus does my soul a mate salute and poss on, lost the God, and mute.

For like you planets and you stars Who know not bounds, or boits, or bars; I have no home in time or place But in the deep of God's free groce; I know no man after the flesh, Though greeting God in each afresh.

Like you, we cross and separate, Salute, yass on at rapid rate, Each on his course, in God's sweet will, Seeking His purpose to fuifil. Each knows the other quite securo With God, his home, and portion sure.

VIII.

The Attracting Power or Love and the Law of Systems.

OUR pow'r in this alone resides,
That each of your great orbs abides
Abandoned to attraction's sweet
Else were ye helpiess, lifeless "clay."
Thus also my surrendered soul
Finds all its force in Love's control.

And while to that sweet influence Ye yield with hely reverence, So do ye other bedies draw To you, as subject unto law; And thus they all their God obey And sail with you toward God—away.

Around you, as you blaze and hurn, Thess smaller planets group and turn, And not too far and not too near Find each one his allotted sphere. Thus saints, in Love, associate, Each in his fitting place and state.

I know no stronger bond or link
Than that which holds you on the brink
Of crash and of catastrophy—
In saints 'tls tove's humility—
That unuseen bond that through alt space
Keeps you in your appolated place.

Yo claim no "carthly" sympathy. Such freedom looks like apathy! But ye have never time to waste, On any "carthy" wish or taste; So can I, Lord, from all soff free, Draw others to revolve round Thee

IX.

Love's Centre of Attraction: Uhrist and the Gress.

ES, everlasting Wisdom, Thou Hast fixed one Centre here below; From whence Love holds its mighty way,

Whose blest attraction saints obey,
Whose has controls them all, and me—
It is the Cross of Calvary.

Want is that point of Jistant space Tward which are rushing on apace Ten thousand systems with their suns; Round which each rolling planet runs Tward that othervel spot untrod . . ? Methinks it is the heart of Cod.

And as from choos' wild nbyss
Springs forth In all Its comliness
Fach new creation, born of love,
Then all the sous of God above
And all the stars of morning sing,
And shout for joy and make heav'n ring.

The Saving, Sanctifying, Efficacy of Love.

ORGIVING, faithful, fruitful Love! In Thee we live, in Thee we move: Our being we received from Thee, Our unit and our unity. And when our will to this world dies, Thus dost promote it to the skies!

And then! Oh! then, up and away! Away! away! For aye! for aye! Then we look down on earthly things, As beings who have found their wings; And love, and worship, and odore, And dwell in God for evermore!

XII.

The Love of God Constraineth us

OVE is my song, love is the strain
Thot ever doth my soul constrain
To rush with all my force and weight
To rescue sinners from their fate,
And lad them off to Catvary,
And laute them line liberty.

Thou Love of God! Thou God of Love! In earth beneath or heaven above, 'TIS love alone, from Thee, for Thee, That binds all saints in harmony. Love every saids chain can break, all loss is gain for its dear sake.

O Love, Thou deep blue sky and sea ! All those who soar or sink in Thee Must ever feel they're 'not attnined,' Though self or sin bave not remained and when ten thousand years bave gr In Thee they still are moving on.

CHAPTER I.

Botter Late than Never.

HEN, in the summer of 183, br. Septimus Deeker left from for a short vacation, putting his oxecition traction confere, pretty much the entire population of Mineral Valley was moved to sensation. In the practice of twenty odd years, the doctor had never been known to take a holidary.

Sense, bu returned the been with him a wife, sensation reached the cilimax What I Dr. Deeker in the character of a wife, sensation reached the cilimax What I Dr. Deeker, a man of all of arry years old, the most practical, hard-ineaded, unsentimental being in all the Villey—Dr. Deeker in the character of a willey was stirred to its centre.

The personality of the bride only added to the sensation. She was all of thirty years younger than her husband, and, excepting what was learned from her husband or herself, was utterly unknown.

The facts of the case, however, were very simple. Mrs. Deeker was the only child of an old-time friend of the passation, and the was all of the property of the case, however, were very simple. Mrs. Deeker was the only child of an old-time friend of the passation, and upon the death of her father, which was all of the property of the passation of the case, however, were very simple. "You know," pursued the doctor, "yesterday, the 18th, was his birthday, and yesterday a here came before the American people," related to her the brilliant story of the Battle of Winchester, as he had that even read it in the daily paper, "My mind is made un," he declared. "The boy shall go through life nobody else than Philip Sheridan Decker!"

Early Influences

From the nature of his position, Dr.

Deeker was one of the best known men in Minoral Valley; incidentally, he was one of the best respected as well. The town, a straggling yet active and vigorous place of ten thousand inhabitants, strotched slong the valley from which it cook its name. For miles up and down the great clert in the mountain was a great network of tunnels, shafts and borings, from which the preclous rock was drawn that gave the whole country strength of the property of the town of the most network of tunnels, shafts and borings, from which the preclous rock was drawn that gave the whole country strength of the was drawn that gave the was drawn that gave the most network of the most network of the most network of the town of the most network of the town of the most network of the town of the town of the town of the town of which he had been thrown in contact with great suffering among the families of improvident miners, had perhaps insensibly a roused within him a prict of antagonism against the decrees of Providence. Mrs. Decker was u quiet, sweet, refined, placid woman, who having all her life been accustomed to deferring in everything to the will of another hely negative that the character. Her life was summed up in caring for the management of her home and working out the behests of her hushand. Just as for five years she had watted unrumed for her hushand select a nume for her child, so now in overything permitted to the child, so now in overything permitted to the child so that could be the child so that a content to abide by her husband's decisions.

Thus Sheridan grew to youth in a strange and altogether undestrable semi-independance.

Joseph. S. Hugmire

Our Provincial target has been set by our beloved Commissioner, und we arswer buck "Victory is perched upon our banners," and "Patta laughs at impossibilities and eries it shall be done."

Memories of last year's H. F. fight strengthens our confidence that we will come out O.K. this year. In '97 our larget was $2,300, and the total amount out brave forces raised was $2,556.5. How they did toil ond seheme and plan to rule that grand total. Altogether this year we have out target slightly odvanced, yet WE SHALL DO IT.

Hallfax, under Commodore McGillivray, stands at the head of the Districts with a target of 243, while St. John, under Ensign Kerr, foliows up with a $300 target. We bespeak victory for bothese old faithful worriors. Fredericton comes third, and under Adjuinta McLean ought to come off with flying colors.

Yarmouth, New Glasgow, and Moacton, under Adjutants Miller, Desbrisay and Ensign Edwards are down to raise $25. 326 and $2.00. It will be a close run. Now for it—this will be an interesting race.

Windsor, Bermuda and Cape Breton come next, Adjulants Hendricks, Matthews, and Ensign Crickton in command. Cape Breton came out on top last year. Will she hold her own this? What has Ensight Crichton to say about it?

Still another trio—Brings Hill, Newcastic and P. E. L. under Ensigns Fraser. Graham and Adjudant Creighton respectively. Now, comardes, yes are on you Get ready for the rase.

But the D. O's are dependent on the F. O's and soldiers. Stand shoulder to shoulder commides, let your motive be pure, and your eye slarge, and do it for Jesus' sake, and with a long pull, at for the your, and with all together, it shall be done. Hallettian 1

OUR TRIUMPHANT GENERAL.

OUR TRIVEPHART GRAKAAL.

The marvellous activity of the Genteral is in on wise abating, and hy the triumphant tone of the reports his recent campaigns have excelled many previous records in the countries visited. The glorious opening of his Swedish tour was fully described in our last issue, and the conclusion of that four has proved true all the beginning promised. At Jonkoping, in spite of a dreneling rain, great crowds greeted the General twice and forty souls were numbered at the and forty souls were numbered at the mercy seat. Gothenburg's Hall could only accommodate half the mass of humanity hat clamored for admission. From Sweden the Generad crossed over to Den-mark. Colonel Lowley reports that at Copenhagen for the first time permission Copenhagen for the first time permission was granted by the authorities for a public demonstration at the railway station. On Sunday morning three hundred soldlers and friends turned up for kneedrill and during the succeeding three meetings one hundred and twenty souls knelt at the penitent form. The afternoon meeting was held in the King's Gurden, where over 5,000 people gathered and stood throughout the entire meeting

BISMARCK.

W ITHIN a few weeks the two great-est statesmen of Europe have passed away: Mr. Gladstone and Prince possed away: Mr. Gladstone and Prince Blamarck. The Daily Press has so tilly eludgized the character of Prince Blamarck that most of our renders will he familiar with his career. His character teaches us what a will bent into a certain channel, leading to a high ideal, can accomplish. Blamarck's ideal since his early student's years was the unifying of the German States, which he nearly reached in 1818. Although the times were not ripe for it until thirty years after that, yet he persistently threw his energy and labors in that direction until his plans were consummated. How much more labors in that girection until his plants were consummated. How much more should we, as Salvationists, run a straight course toward the consummation of our idea—the bringing of the Klagdom of Christ into the hearts of individuals. uals as well as into the government of the communities in which we live.

CORRECTION.

Through a mistake in the Provincial Scribe's return the Central Ontario Province is only credited in the Hustlers' Column with 25 hustlers, and 108 sales. This should be 68 hustlers with a total of 2022 War Crys sold, bringing Brigadier Gaskin to the top.

"What do you mean?" said the mandarin, "I have not given you any of my jewels." "No," was the reply, "but you have let me look at yourself; the only difference being in my favor, for you have all the anxiety of watching over them—a trouble from which I am spared."

Space will not allow of very lengthy noise this week, so F. P. must hustle-say, not all he has to say, but all he can in the time and space afforded, and then quit.

can in the time and space afforded, and then quit.

Bennett is again on top, but there are commons thecationizes from the Central that forbode ill for both E. O. P. and W. O. P. The Northern and Southern forces nave joined and this looks significant. Of course the hold Bennett, and he equally sanguine Southall consider thermselves and troops a match for any possible combination. We shall see.

Welcome, Zieburth, of the fur West. Your 215 record is a heart stirrer. Have you come to stay?

The Coming Army.

Russel Rumbie, of Blenheim, who has thirty copies to his credit this week, is but it Junior of nine years old. Speaking of him our correspondent says, "He takes." This bold statement is added to the epistic, "Beat that it you can." Can anyone do so? F. P. would be delighted to hear. Dull another more worthy appears transfer or means with the little here of Blenheim.

Mr. Prodigious Bonds (log): "And when I refused to buy his low paper, the im-pudent jackanapes had the audicity to ask ME if I was saved!!"

Can it be that the linocent, guideles F. P. is minunderstood? If Adjutant—did but realize the supreme, unalloyed pleasure it informs him to ebroniele the inundreds of sales to the credit of this hustlera, the query on a recent post card would not have been raised. Oh, that we could record thousands instead of hundreds to our hustling sister's credit. F. P. will promise to insert faithfully whatever figures you send.

By way of explaination. It sometimes whatever figures you send.

By way of explanation. It sometimes huppens the hustiers touls reach the Editor after the Honor Roll is closed for he week. In such cuses the figures are deferred for the next issue, before which other totals frequently make their appearance. In such cuses the custom is to add both totals and then average according to the number of weeks' sales represented. Thus: First week too late for Honor Roll, Sister S., of W., 200. Second week in good time the same site cells 140, which means that the toual for two weeks is 300 copies, or an average of 10 for each week. See! my comrades. Oh, the gentle forbearance and batleue of the lowing F. P.

An Up-to-date Hustler.

Scenc.-G. T. R. train en route to Mon-

Scene.—G. T. R. train en route to Montreal.
Conductor: "Brockville! Brockville!"
Echo has scarce dida daway when another voice is heard.
"War Cry! War Cry! Buy a War Cry!" Lieut. Lattmer, of Brockville, has boarded the cars with his Crys and in few minutes accomplished the following: Sold a number of copies, demonstrated to the passengers the fill alive chnracter of its Sativationism, chered the heart of his Sativationism, chered the heart of contrades who happened to be on the cars en route to the Cid Land, and retired considerably richer for his effort.
Hwalters take the tip, and then let F. F. know the result.

. . . orief Truths for Mustlers.

"Redeeming the time" (or, buying up the opportunity) "because the days are evil." Eph. v. 16. Believe me still,

Yours affectionately, FOUNTAIN PEN.

ST. CATHARINES.—Ensign Savage has received orders to farawell. Good meeting all day. We had announced a week or two that we were soing in take a special collection. We wanted $30 to clear off the debt on the barracels, and lallelught? Sunday night we got it. We can suy the meeting of the collection of the barracels, in the consumers of the collection.

The chapialn of a great English gool The chapitan of a great English good declared that the officials of the institutions could fill one immense corridor in the building with youths of from 16 to 22 and 23 years of uge, brought there through drink.

The detectives of Scotland Yard de-clared that gambling was fast entching up to drink in its power to destroy hu-man happiness, and bring suffering and shame.

The Secretary of the London Post Office testified that 60 per cent, of the Post Office employees who went wrong were wore brought to trial and sent to prison on the score of gumbling.

Cardinal Vaughan hus gone a step fur-ther than the detectives, and declared that gambling caused more barm than drink. It was the curse of England at the present day.

The demonstration of Insia through the drink sent from England may be inferred from the list of luques that massed through Madina in one week; 90,000 cases of gin, 21,000 butts of run, 30,000 cases of standy, 23,000 eases of Irish whiskey, 50,000 demiloins of run, 30,000 burrels of Old Tish whiskey, 50,000 demiloins of run, 25,000 burrels of Old abentie, 40,020 cases of vermouth. The above list was taken from the posted daily returns in taken from the posted daily returns in lucence of such quantities of alcoholics among a people that we send missionaries to elevate and save?

During the year 1871 twenty-one brewers died in Great Britain, leaving gross possibilities aggregating over $15,000 an average of $750,000 each. The total of twenty-three estates left by when adaptit trade aggregated nearly $2,000,000, an average of over $420,000 each. Who paid this money?

The recent I that pupes have increasing accounts of deaths caused by Intoxicating drink. One young mun who was respectably connected, is reported to have imbibed liquor at a fair in Clones. Soon after leaving the fown he wandered not to the rallway truck on his way home, and becoming unable to walk, lay down, unconscious of his damper, and was eut to prees a few minutes afterwards by a passing train.

WAR OR MURDER?

James Russell Lowell, America's great-est humorist, as well as one of her nobl-est poets, moralists and diplomats, strong-ly expresses hie abhorrence of war in the following lines:

the following lines:

"Ez fer war, I call it murder—
There you have it, plain and flat; I don't want to go no furder
Than my Testyment for that;
God hee sed so plump an' fairly,
It's ca long oz it is broad.

"Taint your eppyletts an' feathers
Muke the thing a grain more right;
"Taint afoliorin' your bell-wethers
Will excuse ye in this sight;
Ef yo take a sword and ror it,
An' go stele a feller thru,
Guy'ment ain't to answer fer it,
God'il send the bill to you.

"Wul's the use o' meetin' goin'
Every Sabbath, wet or ery,
Ef it's right to go a-movin'
Felter-men like outs on' tye?

PINS AND NEEDLES.

Time is God's pause for man's answer. A regining life is but a lingering death, Blessings unused are blessing abused. Eyil is never dangerous until it seems be good.

If we sin for our living we may die for our sinning.

It is not so easy to explain religion as to explain it away.

The man who runs away from God has long wuy to go.

If you have a good idea, mind it does not become your idol.

Nothing but the Cross If Christ can set other crosses right, Adversity gives the great man a chance to show how great he is.

The only thing that is improved by being broken is the human heart. When a man gets too big to pray he has become too small for heaven.

the ranks of the cross-nearers.

Don't be impatient if God keeps you waiting. He pays good interest.

If you ablde in Christ you won't ablde at home when the church bell rings.

The living words of the dead are worth more than the dead words of the living. When a mun begins to move others, he is generally called a "crank."

If a man falls to get what he really deserves he ought to be thankful,

Greatness may procure a tomb, but only goodness can deserve an epituph.

Many a loud Amen is nothing more than a brag by the man who makes it. Help somebody that is worse of than yourself and you will find yourself hetter of than you suppose.

SOLO. Let the Blessed Sunshine in.

Old Tune,

ls a life worth living without Jesus in your heart? Why not cense your groping, oh, so hilind-ly in the dark? Just clear the darkened windows, open wide the door.

Chorus.

Let the blessed sunshine in, Let the blessed sunshine in, Clear the darkened windows, Open wide the door And let the blessed sunshine in.

The doubts, the fears and angulah that are always in your mind, While Satus leads you showmeard, oh, while Satus leads you so blim!?

Just clear the darkened windows, open wide the down.

Why keep your noul in darkness when Jesus is so near?
Why not ask Him help you, all your burdens to bear?
Only clear the darkneed windows, open date the door
And let the blessed sunshine in.

There's nothing like salvation to make a man look up.
There's nothing like our Saviour to keep you from your cups;
Only clear the durkened whalows, open wide the does not be successful to door And let the blesned sunchine in.
